A. K. GURECKY NAMED CASHER TEXAS BANK

J. L. CLINTON LEAVES SERVICE OF BANK FOR BUSINESS IN HARLINGEN

A. K. Gurecky was elected cashier of the Texas State Bank and Trust Company at a meeting of the directors on Tuesday April 26 to succeed J. L. Clinton who has been cashier of the bank since its organization two years ago.

Mr. Clinton left Cameron Monday for Harlingen in the Rio Grande Valley where he will be associated with his uncle in the development of valley lands. Reasons for leaving the bank here are on account of his health, Mr. Clinton being forced to seek a lower climate and to get out in the open. His physician advised the change. Mr. Clinton has been in declining health for some time, suffering from high blood pressure and the change is made on that account.

Mr. Clinton was formerly assistant cashier and director in the First National Bank of Cameron, leaving that bank three years ago to go with H. M. Hefley in the organization of the Texas Trust Company. A year later the charter was amended and banking privileges secured and since the institution has been the Texas State Bank and Trust Company. Mr. Clinton was active in the organization of the bank and has been in a large measure along with Mr. Hefley, its president, responsible for its success.

The board of directors, Mr. Hefley and the public at large will regret that Mr. Clinton is to leave Cameron but wish him success in his new field of rapidly developing South Texas. The family of Mr. Clinton will remain here until the school term is ended.

Mr. Gurecky is a young man who has had considerable experience in the business world of Cameron. He was formerly with Felix Matula and Company, grocer and later with the Decker Motor Company in the sale of Dodge cars. He was born and reared in this county and has a wide circle of friends who will be pleased to learn of his progress in the bank. He is well equipped for the place and has taken over the duties of cashier and his friends will be glad to greet him in his new position.

CORINTH ACREAGE IS UNDER DEVELOPMENT

WELL DOWN 775 FEET ON H.
STOEBNER FARM GIVES PROMISE

Drilling, long dormant in certain sections of the county not included in the Rockdale and Minerva fields, has been revived.

The latest report on the well now being drilled on the H. Stoeber farm in the Corinth community shows the drill down 775 feet and indications are that shallow oil will be found in paying quantities. The well, according to Mr. Stoeber, is to be a shallow well, apparently, and hopes are held out that the section will bear oil.

This well is located about 35 miles from Rockdale, according to Mr. Stoeber and is west of Cameron. His farm was purchased from S. W. Cheeves of Cameron.

The well is going down on Block No. 1 of a 2100 acre block of leases. The well is being drilled by Dr. J. W. Enos of Chicago and now living in Rockdale.

Other and large blocks of acreage are being leased in the section of the county West of Cameron and indications are that a number of deep tests are to be made.

As soon as the information is available the Herald will give it to the public.

FRANK LEHNERT, 70 BURIED THURSDAY

DAY—BURIED IN CATHOLIC CEMETERY

Frank Lehnert, aged 70, died Wednesday morning at 4 o'clock, April 27, 1927, following a long period of declining health. Advancing age contributed to his condition which at first was held to be hopeful but as time passed the family and friends realized the end was near.

His wife died about a year ago. Mr. Lehnert died at the home of his brother in law, Frank Seidler.

Frank Lehnert was a native of the Old Country and had lived here in Milam County for the past 40 years. He owned a farm at Curry but last winter sold it and moved to town to spend his remaining days with relatives.

GOLDEN RULE, GREAT PRINCIPLE OF JESUS REJECTED, DECLARES KENNEY; WE NEITHER BELIEVE NOR PRACTICE

The Golden Rule, much praised but never practiced, has been rejected by so called Christianity, declares Rev. H. G. Kenney of the Presbyterian church, in a sermon delivered to his congregation on Sunday night.

In the opening sermon of the Central Texas Presbytery here last week the pastor said that he had found only five or six sermons preached by men of various faiths upon this great principle enunciated by Jesus, but that he had found many upon the non-essentials.

The sermon was unusual as is the manner of all the pastor's sermons. Stereotyped theology and the enslavement of tradition find no sympathy at the hands of this minister who believes the churches must meet modern conditions with a safe and sane interpretation of the principles of Christ.

Text: St. Matthew 7:12—"All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them; for this is the law and the prophets."

"Jesus said a number of things while on this earth which we do not believe—not in any genuine sense of the term.

"Nobody believes what Jesus had to say about God's will being done on earth as it is done in Heaven.

"Nobody believes that the meek will inherit the earth. We think surely Jesus meant 'Heaven,' and some of our obliging commentators have assured us that Jesus did mean Heaven.

"Nobody believes that 'it is more blessed to give than to receive.' We spend a great portion of our time gathering together things which we have been able to take from our fellowmen.

"Nobody believes that we can do more with a man by loving him than you can do with law and authority. Our civilization testifies to the fact.

"We Christians have rejected in a body what Christ taught about man and the institution. If you are disposed to doubt this drop in any time when reports of so-called revival meetings are being given: 'We captured so many, others were able to

Oddfellows Respond to Fund for Repairs on Home at Corsicana

At a meeting of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. of Texas recently, a resolution was passed authorizing the expenditure of $150,000 for repairs, replacements and extensions at the Woman's and Orphans Home and Old Folks Home at Corsicana and Ennis. The resolution provides for the issuance of bonds for the money, or that subordinate lodges may remit within ninety days to the Grand Lodge $4.00 per member and be forever free from the payment of the tax levied to provide for the payment of the proposed bonds.

Cameron Lodge No. 56 at the first meeting after receipt of copy of the resolutions of the Grand Lodge paid its $4.00 per member towit; $232.00 in cash. The Grand Lodge has one of the best homes and schools in the state for orphans for its members and this $150,000 will equip a suitable home for aged members and their widows at Ennis. The Superintendent of the Orphan's Home at Corsicana can also act as Superintendent at Ennis as communication is available every hour by Interurban between the two places.

The Cameron Fire Department took one of the trucks to Buckholts in response to a telephone call Friday morning. While W. A. Warren was cleaning some of the gin machinery with gasoline, an electric light globe struck some of the iron work and an explosion was caused from the spark produced by the broken globe. The fire was brought under control by the bucket brigade when the Cameron truck arrived. The gin is owned by the Walschak estate and several hundred dollars damage was done. Mr. Warren was badly burned below the knees.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hays will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Hays is progressing well from an operation in a hospital in Corsicana last week. Mrs. Hays left Cameron some weeks ago for a visit with her parents at Kernes and from there went to the hospital at Corsicana.

The Grand Chancellor is doing great things for Pythianism in Texas and has endeared himself to Knights everywhere. The Chancellor while here arranged for the visit of the boys and girls Mandolin Club from the home at Weatherford. They will be here for a public entertainment about June 12th.

LEE FREEMAN, GRAND CHANCELLOR ON VISIT

HEAD OF TEXAS KNIGHTS PY-THIAS TALKS TO LODGE

Lee Freeman of Fort Worth, Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias for the Texas domain, was a visitor at the Lodge here on Monday night, delivering an address outlining the activity of the lodges in Texas and the grand lodge.

Mr. Freeman had planned to visit Cameron early in the month but was prevented from attending the lodge on account of pressing duties as Grand Chancellor. He arrived here Monday afternoon and left Tuesday morning for Fort Worth.

Cameron Knights who attended the district meeting in Waco recently met the grand chancellor and at the meeting Monday night about forty members attended to greet the leader.

As a compliment to the Grand Chancellor the rank of Esquire was put on. The lodge is planning a class to honor the supreme Chancellor, Wittie, in May.

Mr. Freeman told the local Knights of the work that he is doing throughout the domain of Texas, outlining the program for the Supreme Chancellor's class in which it is hoped to bring in 500 new members by the middle of May. In accordance with this plan he has directed more than a hundred men to visit various lodges of the state. W. O. Triggs will go to Marlin for the meeting there next Monday night and Hon. Tom Connolly of Marlin will visit Cameron lodge. Judge Ed Gunn of Rockdale has been delegated to visit the Caldwell lodge.

The Grand Chancellor made definite arrangements for the visit here on the 11th or 12th of May of the girls and boys mandolin club from the home at Weatherford. One of the important achievements of the Grand Chancellor was the purchase of a bus for the club by which they are able to go over the state and appear in public entertainments.

A committee has been named here to prepare all arrangements for the club in Cameron. The club will give a public program at which the public will be invited free of charge. The girls and boys will be entertained in Cameron homes while here.

Pythianism in Texas is on the upward climb, said Mr. Freeman, the lodges everywhere evidencing a renewed interest in the work.

M. G. Cox, local knight, responded to the address of the Grand Chancellor for the local lodge. The Grand Chancellor was pleased with the work of the Cameron lodge, declaring it to be one of the best in Texas. His son, just 21 years of age is Chancellor Commander of Queen City Lodge in Fort Worth and was met by local Knights at the district meeting in Waco recently.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Bridge Club

Tally cards were cleverly designed with card symbols. A salad plate consisting of chicken salad, cheese bits, pickles, sandwiches, molded jelly and ice tea was served by the hostess—Bragg.

es, assisted by their mother, Mrs. Bragg.

There were a number of invited guests, other than club members.

SCIENCE NOTES

With the aid of special measuring apparatus, Prof. F. M. Andrews of Indiana university has found that the stalks of some plants grow more in the night than they do in the day. The leaves showed as much development in the light as they did when the sun was down.

The use of lime to reduce acidity in cream for making butter was discussed recently by Prof. O. R. Overman, of the University of Illinois. The treatment, he says, prevents excessive loss of fat which would result from churning cream that had been pasteurized while very sour; eliminates undesirable flavors, and produces butter that keeps longer.

Static decreases and radio station strength increases with and in proportion to acceleration in the train's speed, experiments with a receiver on board a car of the Northwestern railroad have shown. A steel bridge with no superstructure, helped to increase the volume of the reception while one with a superstructure decreased it.

Pieces of a tree believed to have been buried at least 50,000 years ago were brought up from a depth of 754 feet while digging a well in Tacoma, Wash., recently. The wood was well preserved and the bark readily distinguishable.

Hunting bugs with an airplane, half a mile above the ground and more, is one of the latest methods of scientists who are intent on keeping plant-destroying pests under control. Sticky paper traps are attached to the planes or to kites, in order to catch any insects that might be flying.

Quantities of better spark plugs are expected as a result of the discovery of a huge deposit of cyanite, a silicate of aluminum, that can withstand repeated exposures to high temperature, in North Carolina.

Many meteors fall to the earth during a year, but there is apparently no record of one killing a person. One of the nearest approaches to such an accident was reported recently from England by a cyclist who declared that a meteor fell within seven yards of him while he was riding at night.

In eastern Oregon is an interesting well that not only gives supplies of good water but acts as a sort of barometer to tell the approach of storms or changes in the weather. From twelve to twenty-four hours before a storm, it "exhales" a current of air. The draft increases as the storm approaches, sometimes reaching the intensity of a whistling, roaring jet and shooting up a mist of water with it.

Methodist Missionary Society

A very interesting meeting was held by members of the Methodist Missionary Society at the Methodist church on Monday afternoon, when representatives from Missionary Societies in the Marlin District attended and the report of the Woman's Conference of the Texas Conference held at Lufkin recently, was faultlessly given by delegates.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Lee Batte, Mrs. W. O. Triggs conducted the devotional. The first report was given by Mrs. C. E. Porterfield on the Children's Department and Publicity Department. Mrs. L. J. Power reported on the Social Service and the Young People's Department. Mrs. W. O. Triggs gave a report of the Mission Study Department, together with the report of pledges and Conference specials. These reports were all very ably presented and showed the wonderful work being accomplished by the women of the State.

A social hour followed, when brick cream and cake was served in the basement.

Those attending from places included in the Marlin District were as follows: Rosebud: Mesdames John Sapp, A. C. Schaudies, J. F. Taylor, M. M. McInnis, Mary Jo Green, Ethel Green, J. T. Bell, Ross, S. S. Hyman, Joe Smiley, Misses Johnnie Stallworth Mary Easley.

Wild Flower Contest

The prairies, the hills and the valleys of Milam County will soon be a riot of color, for the wild flowers will be blooming in profusion after the heavy rains this county has had. God has placed them here for our enjoyment and to many of us they are real friends that seem to understand our very moods and yet how few of us are familiar with the names of those we see every day? Most of us know the bluebonnet and Indian paint brush, but the prairies are covered with flowers of every kind.

In order to create more interest in the knowledge of wild flowers, the Interscholastic League of this State is sponsoring a wild flower contest and in order to be a winner next year, work must begin at once for the flowers of the spring, summer, autumn and winter months must be collected. The winner of the State Wild Flower Contest will be awarded a $50.00 cash prize. Surely no county in the State has been more beautiful than this section, located half way between the snows of North Texas and the sunshine and warmth of the South ports.

No knowledge of wild flowers is necessary for those who wish to enter this contest. Full information as to gathering, preserving and identifying the specimens will be furnished upon request to Dr. B. C. Thorp, University Station, Austin, Texas.

BEN ARNOLD H. D. CLUB HOLDS GOOD MEETING*MEMBERS VISIT GARDENS AND KITCHEN AT MAYSFIELD AND NOTE EQUIPMENT

Ben Arnold H. D. Club met at Mrs. August Knipp, Wednesday April 20, 1927, with Mrs. W. Vogelsang, president, presiding. Response to roll call was some idea or suggestion on "Labor-saving." One lady said her husband was her "labor saver." Poor thing; I imagine she must feel powerful lonely at times. Being as she's so much in a class to herself.

We dispensed with the business part of the program and made two very interesting visits. Mrs. Vogelsang's garden and Mrs. Newton's (of Maysfield) kitchen. Mrs. Vogelsang has demonstrated just what commercial fertilizer and "Book Learning" can do even in the black land. Where she used the fertilizer all vegetables are finer and matured at least two weeks earlier than where the fertilizer was not used.

Then we hied ourselves away to Maysfield to view Mrs. Newton's kitchen, and believe me, it was some eye-opener. Just think what we, our mother, our grand mother and on down the line, have missed all these years and centuries, just for the want of a nail, a hammer, a plank and a man with the will to wield same.

Reporter was fortunate enough to be present when some kitchens in Cameron were inspected recently. With the exceptions of the tiled sinks, electric stoves and hardwood floors, not one had things more convenient than Mrs. Newton. And she had some conveniences they did not have. She had a high stool, and she could sit at her sink and prepare a meal without getting off the stool. Also wash all dishes and vessels and put them away. She had a real corn meal bin, please notice the fact. Her cook table was on castors and was made from an old ironing board with a very convenient drop leaf. Mr. Newton's own invention. All built in fixtures were made from drg goods boxes, and old safe, an ironing board and even old bed slats. Water is piped in and out, and the cost of pipe and all other material did not exceed $25.00. We are trying to keep our new agent's light hidden. Mrs. Newton should have her husband build her a good stout bushel measure. She asked us to come again but we ladies at Ben Arnold are going to send our husbands next time, and I don't think any of them need a bushel measure—yet.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Pete Bergum. Subject will be 'Summer Salads.' We hope to be able to give some attention to 'Butter Scoring,' as some of the ladies are especially interested in the subject.

We have had two very interesting call meetings since our last report. Canned chicken in the pressure cooker at Mrs. C. C. Sproull's. Fried chicken, giblets, soup and chicken for salads.

We met at Mrs. Chas. Nolte's and made three dress forms. When work was finished, Mrs. Nolte delighted us with a delicious salad course, hot coffee and angel food cake.

We are planning a program for Child Welfare Day, May 2. As this is for the health of all children we are hoping for the interest and cooperation of all.

Tells How To Get Rid Of Insects In Gardens Here

College Station, Texas, April 25.—The best methods to use in combating the insects that may now be causing trouble in gardens and orchards were outlined in a recent radio talk by F. L. Thomas, entomologist of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, given over Station WTAW, the A. & M. broadcasting station. Among the pests discussed were plant lice, thrips, cutworms, Harlequin cabbage bugs, striped cucumber beetles, boll weevils and the cotton flea hopper.

"There has been much complaint of injury due to plant lice," Mr. Thomas said, "especially to turnips. The abundance of these insects has been due to our mild winter. At this time of the year control of these pests is best obtained by making applications of a two per cent nicotine dust. The dust may be obtained from seedsmen, nurserymen, insecticide dealers, and mail order houses. It may also be prepared at home by mixing 1-2 pound of nicotine sulphate liquid in 10 pounds of hydrated lime. Nicotine dust gives best results when applied during the heat of the day, when there is no wind. When not in use it should be kept in air tight containers."

"Nicotine dust is also a control for thrips, small insects which attack roses and onions. Frequent dustings are necessary for killing these insects as they may re-appear at any time in abundance. They develop on weeds, and fly readily."

"Other species of plant lice may attack the foliage of fruit trees. Because there is more circulation of air in a tree than around low growing vegetables, the use of nicotine dust on trees is not advised as much as use of nicotine spray. This is prepared by pouring a teaspoonful of nicotine sulphate into a gallon of soapy water, or 3-8 pint of nicotine sulphate into a barrel of water."

Cutworms put in an early appearance, and the best time to kill them is a few days after seed have been planted or just before plants are set out. A good poison bait consists of a mixture of the following: 10 lbs. bran, 1-2 lb. Paris green, 1 quart of cheap syrup, and about 2 gallons water.

er. Spread this poisoned bran mash just before nightfall, broadcasting it as when sowing grain. If plants are already coming up place about a tablespoonful by each plant or sprinkle it along the rows.

"The Harlequin cabbage bug is very injurious and a difficult pest to control. It passes the winter hiding in the remnants of crops, and appears in early Spring on mustard, cabbage, and wild plants. Each female lays 100 eggs, so it is important to destroy the adults, even using the laborious hand-picking method if necessary. On large areas, an early row of mustard should be planted to attract the bugs. When they have congregated and laid eggs on this row, destroy the mustard, bugs and all."

"An arsenate of lead spray or a dust consisting of one part calcium arsenate and 20 parts land plaster or gypsum will repel the striped cucumber beetle. Keep the leaves well covered with this mixture."

Mr. Thomas urged farmers to be prepared with plenty of calcium arsenate, while the price is low, to be in readiness for the fight on boll weevils which are reported in evidence

Farm Population Decrease For 1926 Greatest In Years

The farm population of the United States decreased 649,000 persons last year, the biggest decrease in any year since 1920, according to estimates by the bureau of Agriculture Economics, United States Department of Agriculture. The number of persons living on farms January 1, 1927, is estimated at 27,892,000 against 28,541,000 January 1, 1926. The 1925 agriculture census figure 28,982,000 was used as a base for the bureau's calculations.

It is estimated that 2,155,000 persons moved from farms to cities, towns and villages last year, and that 1,135,000 persons moved to farms, making a net movement of 1,020,000 persons away from farms. Births on farms during 1926 are estimated at 658,000 and deaths 287,000, leaving a natural increase of 371,000 persons, which reduced the loss due to cityward movement to 649,000.

The bureau's figures for 1925, revised on the basis of the 1925 agricultural census, show a net loss of 441,000 persons in farm population that year. The gross movement from farms to cities was 1,900,000 and the gross movement to farms 1,066,000 making a net movement to cities, not counting births and deaths, of 834,000 persons.

All geographic sections of the country show net decreases in farm population last year. The farm population in the New England States was 636,000 persons January 1, 1927, against 651,000 January 1, 1926; Middle Atlantic States 1,768,000 against 1,808,000; East North Central 4,323,000 against 4,425,000; West North Central 4,728,000 against 4,826,000; South Atlantic 5,393,000 against 5,531,000; East South Central 4,509,000 against 4,586,000; West South Central 4,585,000 against 4,727,000; Mountain 949,000 against 973,000 and Pacific 1,000,000 against 1,014,000.

The figures show that in the New England States 72,000 persons left the farms last year and 52,000 went to farms; Middle Atlantic States 155,000 persons from farms and 101,000 persons to farms. East North Central 319,000 from farms and 164,000 to farms; West North Central 338,000 from farms and 193,000 to farms; South Atlantic 354,000 from farms and 133,000 to farms; East South Central 266,000 from farms and 101,000 to farms; West South Central 402,000 from farms and 194,000 to farms; Mountain 130,000 from farms and 95,000 to farms; Pacific 119,000 from farms and 102,000 to farms.

Engineer Visits Here

John E. Blair, division engineer for the Highway Department whose home is in Bryan was a visitor in Cameron this week, looking after the road conditions in this section. According to reports here it is believed a very liberal appropriation will be made for the county.

Mr. Blair was reviewing certain conditions along the roads with the view of making improvements.

Strawberries

Our estimable friend and fellow townsman, Fred Henry, keeps us well supplied with fresh strawberries from his garden at home. The berries are the finest specimens we have ever seen and are unusually delicious in flavor. They are picked each morning and Mr. Henry has been supplying his friends for some time.

Mr. Henry not only grows strawberries but his yard and garden are a marvelous display of flowers, shrubs and vegetables. Almost every known variety of vegetable grown here can be found flourishing under his care. Friends of Mr. Henry who have visited his home are delighted with the plant life that surrounds it. It is the Burbank place of Milam County.

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

A SECRET OF HAPPINESS

"If you don't care for the things you can't obtain you will be fairly happy."On the surface it is not an inspiring message. Not to care for the things we can't obtain is to resign, give up, be supine. And when we quit in life's struggles we pay a dear price, indeed, for our meagre mete of happiness. Most of us perhaps, would rather keep on fighting. There is joy in the fight; joy at least to know there is fight in us.

Let us reverse the formula.

"If you care enough for the things you have obtained, you will be su-premely happy."The humble farmer, on his little farm—if he loves that farm—may be happy beyond compare. If he loves it well, he will till it well, intelligently, thoroughly, and it will yield him rich store. The widowed mother, in the little cottage, has her children, and if she loves them well they will be her life. The clerk at the desk, if he loves his work, will be happy in it.
Or the motorman in his cab of steel, may find in the easy response of the thrumming motors and his rolling palace, a sense of responsibility for the passing multitude that will bring him pride and joy.To be truly happy in our lot we need not be contented. Indeed, happiness and contentment, while we keep moving on life's highway, are not to be reconciled. If we love the work we do we shall be thrilled not alone to do it well, but to do it better.Far away fields are always green to too many of us. Only after many fruitless pilgrimages is the simple truth borne home that if the field at our door is not attractive and verdant it is because we do not water its shrubs and grasses. If we love our field we will tend it. And, more important, if we tend it we will come to love it.And this to them in whom ambition burns. Only by the degree to which you prove yourself true to the modest task of today can you fit yourself for, or inspire others to entrust you with greater duties tomorrow.

PROVINCIALISM

If the present trend of events continues, there will soon be no provincialism left in the United States.
Isolation is what makes people provincial, and isolation is rapidly becoming a thing of the past.The telephone was the first medium to connect far-lying districts with the life of the cities. The automobile next furnished a means of rapid and convenient transit. Now the city has been brought to the small town by means of the radio. When Prairie Depot, Ohio, can listen in on concerts as far east as Newark, as far south as Atlanta and as far west as Kansas City, then that town partakes in a measure of the characteristics of the cities. They have something in common together.Great national roads from another de-provincializing element. A sparsely settled district, however far it may be from the larger centers, cannot grow self-centered and peculiar when cars from ten different states pass through town every day.In fact, the danger lies in the opposite direction. Towns tend to grow rather too much alike. Without labels, it is difficult for a stranger within a diameter of 500 miles to be able to distinguish one town from another.
Town spirit is also becoming more difficult to foster. Communication and easy travel have brought this about. There may come a time when the people of this country have extended their travels around the globe so widely that they will not appear even as distinctively American.

THE NEWSPAPER GUIDE

The newspaper that carries a good line of advertisements is to the shopper what the time table is to the traveler and the published guide is to the tourist. Busy people will study these advertisements in the home or in the office as they do a time table, and before they start out shopping they have determined where they are going.The newcomer or the visitor in the city finds the advertising columns of a newspaper a reliable guide to follow, just as he finds the printed guide for tourists to points of interest a matter of interest to all tourists, and the non-advertiser puts himself outside the pale of interest so far as strangers are concerned.The real balance of trade depends largely on the accuracy of the scales.Many a woman standing in front of a shop window has merely stopped to reflect.Some of our farmers are becoming so well educated they can't tell when it is going to rain.When a man lies, says a psychologist, he wiggles his toes. Fishermen should wear loose shoes.Some people seem to think the world is a menace to civilization and should be destroyed at once.Eventually few figures in politics are as lonesome as the leader who neglected to ask the following which way it was headed.It will be news to many to learn that the saxophone is an invention.
They always carried the opinion that it was hit upon by accident by somebody who was trying to make something else.

Jones Prairie Club

The Jones Prairie H. D. Club met Monday afternoon last, in the home of Mrs. T. B. Stidham. There were sixteen ladies present, having four new members: Mesdames Earl Pool, Henry Black, Sam Harrell and Miss Roxie Allday, also having a visitor, Miss Barney Ward Reagan of Franklin. The subject of the program was "Salad Making." Four kinds of salad and three kinds of salad dressing were made. Miss Bartholomew gave some good salad and salad dressing recipes. Two committees were appointed, one was to see the Woodmen to see if they would let the H. D.
Club meet in their hall. The other other was to see about getting a stove.Our next meeting will be the second Monday in May with Mrs. E. B.
Yeager. Egg dishes and scoring of butter will be the program.

Full O'Pep Club

The Full O'Pep 4-H Club of Jones Prairie met Monday April 25, 1927.
The usual program was followed. The president made the suggestion that the club raise money to buy an oil stove to be used in all cooking done by the club at its meetings.Both ladies and girl's clubs were in favor of the plan and promised their help in the matter. Vance McLerran and Maudine Canady were appointed as committee for the stove campaign.It was also suggested that we obtain a club house, but this was not settled. Miss Boswell, our local leader, Mildred Burnett and Jewel Hickman were appointed on the Rally Day program committee.

Burlington Busy Bee

The Four-H Club met Wednesday at 10:30 the regular meeting time and there were nine girls present. The motto of the club is: My head to clearer thinking, my hands to greater service, my health to efficient living in service to my home, my community, my country and my God.The club girls are planning for a trip to A. & M. College Thursday. The girls are so anxious to sew that they brought their sewing basket and other things and were ready to start sewing at 10:30 Wednesday.

History Club

The Cameron History Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. W. G.
Gillis at her home on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The decorations were of beautiful roses, larkspur and ferns.An interesting program was given by Mrs. Loyd Mitchell and Mrs. Wm.
Henderson. Mrs. Mitchell gave a splendid discussion of the situation in China and May Day customs. Mrs.
Henderson very efficiently presented the Nicaraguan condition.The hostess was assisted by Mrs.
Loyd Mitchell in serving a delightful salad plate with ice tea.

FROM THE MAIL BOX

Editor Herald,
Cameron, Texas,News reports state that a train was held up and burned, while the guards and passengers were slaughtered by Mexican bandits whose battle cry was "Long live Christ the King." This will strike thinking people as the height of irony, but when we look backward to the crucifixion, we find history full of this kind of thing.
And even backward into the dim years before the coming of the Son of Man we find that some of the most atrocious crimes of which we can learn were perpetuated in the name of religion.Man is so constituted that the innermost fibres of his being cry out for something to worship and this need has lead him into devious paths, some of them strange indeed. In answer to this need the Son of Man came and walked the paths of everyday with all manner of men, teaching them in the simplest of words concerning the things which they, in their primitive hearts were hungering for, and then with His mission ended, passed, as is the manner of all men, through the grave into the Beyond, and ever since, crimes of every sort, murder, thievery, rapine and oppression of the worst nature, have been done in His name. "Long live Christ the King." Yea verily.Our religion has never been of the most active sort that which clamors for wordy expressions and demonstrations but our humble heart wonders and gropes in the darkness for an answer, when after reading in the Book of how the Carpenter, in the very spirit of mercy and kindness, went about healing the sick and blind, of putting down quarrels and ill feeling, feeding those who hungered and establishing companionship with the outcasts, we read of the activities of the Borgias in Rome, of the burning of the witches at Salem and so on down through the pages of history to our present day, when it is so necessary to impress the unbeliever with the banner of Christ that it must be bathed in the blood of the innocent, gilded by the silver of the oppressed and lighted by the fires of devastation. Very impressive, isn't it? And so necessary in order that the masses be reminded of the glory and omnipotence of that God who created this universe and all men equal.It causes us no little concern to learn that the God we've been taught from infancy to love and revere and call blessed demands these sacrifices when the blood of the helpless and innocent must flow in order that Christianity may triumph. Perhaps it is very necessary that poor innocents be kept in the dark, downtrodden and ignorant, to live endlessly in their rags and dirt, with education beyond their reach lest they unknowingly bring down the wrath of that God whose very being is love and mercy. It has ever been our wont to bend the knee and bow the head in all reverence without question to the edicts of One who gave us our being in this most beautiful of worlds, and it is our most humble desire that we may do and say the things which will help to establish and maintain the glory of the Infinite, but, like an innocent little child we wonder sometimes at the strange whims of Him who created this green earth, bathed it in sunlight and moonmist, with the wild flower to make its breezes fragrant and the birds, to sing its wonders, when He is reputed to demand violence and brutality that men may know His splendor. Sometimes we tremble lest we, after watching the magnificence of the sunset, from the brow of some green hill, as it slides behind the purpling horizon and hearing the vesper song of the birds as they seek their sheltering boughs, feel impelled to go forth in quest of blood that we may spill for the glory of Him who gave us these things, with the cry, "Long live Christ the King."

GOLDEN RULE, GREAT PRINCIPAL OF JESUS REJECTED, DECLARES KENNEY; WE NEITHER BELIEVE NOR PRACTICE

himself. And yet it is true that we are accustomed to thinking of our religion in negative terms, that we nearly always apply that conception to the Golden Rule."That great and good man, Dr.
Chalmers, one of the few men who have preached on the Rule, in his sermon spent his entire time naming the things we ought not to do to the other fellow, because we would not like for them to be done to us."But Jesus did not state it that way.
His way is far more searching and startling: Look about you, said the Master, and if you see a need in an-others life which you are already enjoying, supply it out of your own fortunate condition."Now, of course, I am familiar with the answer we make to all this: Such we say would encourage idleness; and then we pat ourselves on the back for being clever enough to set aside this embarrassing challenge of our Lord's.
But wait a moment, have we really set it aside? Seeing that we have never lived under such an order of this, how do we know what it would encourage? Besides, Jesus said it was the law and the prophets. The sole purpose of both being to produce righteousness, Jesus is here saying that it would encourage righteousness. Did He know what He was talking about? According to Jesus, then, I am to let the positive note of this command dominate all my dealings with my fellowmen. According to our present day system of Christianity I am to hold to correct theological views. I wonder which is more important."When then, we honestly face the Golden Rule, we see at once that Jesus never intended that any lines whatsoever were to be drawn in its application. Now, if you will only take the trouble to look about you, you will discover, with very littletrouble, that under our system of Christianity we have all sorts and kinds of lines rigidly drawn, and what is more to the point, we justify and defend them, often in the name of Jesus Christ. Often by citing scripture passages, and by wholesale appeals to the prejudices of the people. I think it was in 1849 that the great Methodist church divided into a Northern and Southern church.
And they so divided because the Northern brethren were able to prove from an infallible book that slavery could not be harmonized with the teachings of Jesus; and the Southern brethren proved by the same infallible book that it could be harmonized.
And so we have ever been defending our lines."Let us then, honestly state it: In our treatment of the negro, the Mexican, the Jap and all the colored peoples we are no more Christian than the poor heathen to whom we send Missionaries, and that in order to make them like us."The preachers all over the country are howling about Sinclair Lewis' book, "Elmer Gantry (and the New York World has taken occasion to point out that it is always the hit dog that yells). When I think of the many injustices which we inflict on our so-called inferiors, and how we try to justify it in the name of Jesus Christ, I am not at all surprised that Lewis, or any one else, should battize us with his keen and cutting irony. God knows we need it."When I think how we have ignored this command, which Jesus declared was the law and the prophets, and how we have played on the minor notes, I find myself wondering just what right have we, after all, to call ourselves Christians."Surely you can see, my friends, that the application of the Golden Rule would cure all the ills of humanity. Unfortunate children would no longer be compelled to do withoutnourishing foods, the necessities of life, and live in crime and poverty and disease germs. War would be consigned to hell, where it belongs.
The poor would no longer have to bear the burdens of the rich. Trusts and Labor Unions would be able to join hands in trying to serve humanity."Oh, yes, I know there are thousands who think that all this has no connection with Christianity, and that the kingdom is to be ushered in along other lines."Here is a man who thinks that the kingdom would be ushered in at once if he were allowed to kick all those out who are unable to swallow his particular type of dogmatism. And he loses no opportunity to so inform us."Here is another man who believes the Golden Age would dawn tomorrow morning if we could just get men to bow to the authority of tradition and whose theological views were correct in every particular."Here is another man who believes with all his heart that the way lies in a certain organization. If we could just get the people to realize it's importance. If we only had the steam roller working smoothly. All would then be well, and God's will would then be done on Earth."But what does Jesus say? There came a day when a man bored to death with the endless definitions of his day, came to our Lord and said, "Good Master, what are the supreme things of life?" And Jesus turned to him and simply said, "Love God for all you are worth, and your neighbor as yourself," which is only another way of stating the Golden Rule."May we not, then, let these words influence us some? Only a little will help. Is it not time we Christians were either giving it a trial, or shut up our pious talk about such things?"Why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I command?"

Mr. Doss is interested in budding pecans, having over fifty trees that have been budded with fine pecans, using the native trees to bud on.

While picking dewberries Saturday, C. P. Robinson, of the Rice Community found two wolf puppies. They were placed in a box and left there until night. A large crowd of people from Cameron, Milano, Buckholts and other places with fifty-three dogs enjoyed a grand wolf chase that night, the dogs picking up the trail of the old wolves near the box of young ones. The music the dogs made will be long remembered by the young people who had not been in a wolf chase before.

Cardui.

Because she wants other women to know about Cardui, Mrs. Ina Mae Jinright, Route No. 2, Troy, Ala., says this:

"Mostly, I was afflicted with bad spells of backache. At times I felt as if my back would break.
I would drag one foot after another, in a helpless sort of a way, and once I got down in bed.

"My husband told me about Cardui and got me a bottle. I soon found out what a fine medicine it was. Ever since my first

Samuel F. B. Morse Anniversary; Old Home Still Stands

The following interesting story of Samuel F. B. Morse, and his old home which still stands and is lovely despite its age, was handed us by Geo.
D. Fisher of the Western Union. It was taken from "Dots and Dashes," the official paper of the Company:

When Samuel F. B. Morse was born 136 years ago at the foot of Breed's Hill, Charlestown, Mass., the house on the banks of the Hudson where the inventor of the telegraph was to spend the latter part of his long life, he was already 21 years old.

Its outlook suggestive of another mansion at Mt. Vernon, on the Potomac, the old Morse home two miles south of Poughkeepsie is still a beautiful country seat, free from the slightest hint of ruin or decay. The structure stands on a plateau a hundred feet above the Hudson, its spacious lawns surrounded by a forest of huge black locust trees, from which the estate takes its name of Locust Grove.

The house was built by Col. Henry Livingston in 1770, three years before the Boston Tea Party and five years before the battle of Bunker Hill. Prof.
Morse bought the estate, consisting of some 200 acres, from John Montgomery in 1847. After years of poverty and struggle, the artist-inventor was just beginning to reap the rewards of his great invention, which had "put a girdle round about the earth in forty minutes." It was not until he had named the place Locust Grove and had lived there for some time that he learned the property once had belonged to his wife's great grandfather who also had called it Locust Grove.

Here Morse planned to retire with his family and a few intimate friends to the quiet of country life, but for several years he was to be occupied with legal battles to prevent infringement of his rights, and it was only after the formation of the Western Union Telegraph Company in 1856 with control of his more important patents, that he was to enjoy the freedom from business cares which he had anticipated.

Morse added a wing on the south, which he used as a library, and on the west, overlooking the river, he built another wing in the form of a square tower four stories in height and giving the whole the aspect of an Italian villa.

Here Morse lived with his family from 1847 until his death, April 2, 1872, except for brief periods spent in Europe and in later years, winters passed at his New York City place, No. 5 West 22nd Street. It was Locust Grove with its spacious comfortable rooms, and its well-kept grounds and gardens that Morse always regarded as home, and his letters from Paris, Berlin, St. Petersburg and other capitals, where he was honored by kings and sought by the greatest savants of Europe, always reflected the desire to be back once more on the banks of the Hudson.

Morse received many visitors at Locust Grove, including not only admirers from the neighboring city of Poughkeepsie, and from New York, but also distinguished men from distant parts of the world.

A feature of receptions at Locust Grove was the demonstration of the telegraph. By a wire connected with the New York-Poughkeepsie line, Morse kept in touch with friends in various parts of the United States, and after the laying of the Atlantic cable, with friends abroad. One of his own instruments was installed in the drawing room on the first floor of the "tower", and was an object of interest to all visitors.

The original wires leading to the Morse home remained standing until a few years ago, when they were removed because of the dilapidated condition of the poles.

Locust Grove at present is owned and occupied by Mrs. Wm. H. Young, with her son and daughter, Mr. Innis Young and Miss Annette Young, the place having been taken over from the Morse family in 1895 by Col. Wm. H.
Young, now deceased. Except for a wing added on the north by Col.
Young and now a magnificent dining room, the old place has been kept much as it was when the inventor lived there. Even the two bronze dogs at the porte cochere on the east which were the joy of "Little Leila" Morse before the death of her father, are retained.

None of the original Morse furniture remains, but the old staircase leading off the reception hall is intact and in the drawing room are the same great French mirrors which reflected the scene some eighty years ago when distinguished men and women of America and Europe came to pay their respects.

The interior of the Locust Grove mansion is still eminently in keeping with the historic traditions of the place, for the present owners come of an historic line and every piece of furniture is an antique, many of a character to excite the enthusiasm of the most blasé character.

The house today has 28 rooms throughout its huge extent of four stories and basement, and there is also a sub-basement or cellar which has been sealed for years, and concerning which there are thrilling stories of runaway slaves hidden during the days of the underground railway.

Traveling Salesman Robbed of $200 On Road Near Temple

(Temple Telegram)

Otis Montgomery of Dallas, traveling salesman for the Texas Belting company was robbed of nearly $200 in cash and checks about two miles from Temple on the Little River road shortly after dark Wednesday night.

As he was approaching Temple, Montgomery informed local police, he was overtaken by three young men in a small car who turned their auto across the road two of them alighting and approaching with drawn revolvers. He was relieved of $95 in currency—four $20 bills, one $10 bill and a $5—and two checks in the sum of $45 and $37.50 respectively. Following the hold-up the men pitched him a dollar and told him to "eat on that" in Temple. The trio then turned and sped away to the south. The robbery occurred just south of the Grimes residence on the Little River Highway.

Montgomery was under the impression that the car had followed him at least from as far as Rogers. He spent part of yesterday afternoon in Cameron having driven to Temple from LaGrange since early Tuesday morning.

The hijackers were seemingly young men, Montgomery said. One of the men who relieved him of the cash, he said, was dressed in a blue suit and straw hat. He did not get a description of the man who remained in the car. All were masked with handkerchiefs over their faces. There was no rear number on the hijackers car, he said.

Montgomery reported the hold-up to local police early that night and officers in cities to the south and east of here were notified to be on the lookout for the criminals. No arrests had been made at midnight last night.

Forty Two Club

The Tuesday Forty-two club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Alex Triggs on Tuesday afternoon with the spring idea completely carried out.

Beautiful Paul Neron roses and pink radiance rosebuds were the chosen flowers used in silver vases, baskets and bowls in the reception rooms.
Five tables were arranged in this attractive environment for games.

In the cut for high, favors were received by Mesdames Lena Baskin, George Childress Jr., Oxsheer Smith, Clifton Jenness and Miss Lucille Dick-ard.

The hostess serve an appetizing salad and ice course on handpainted trays centered with small pots of pink blooming Sutanias. Mrs. Vernon Roberts assisted with hostess duties.

Mrs. Swift of Gardiner, Maine, who is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Ox-sheer Smith, was a delightful guest on this occasion and received a dainty georgette handkerchief.

Birthday Luncheon

Mrs. H. A. Jackson was given a surprise birthday luncheon by her daughter, Miss Oleta Jackson Thursday April 14th at their home in Cameron.

Mrs. Jackson attended church that morning and while absent from the home the luncheon was prepared.
Miss Oleta was assisted by her friend, Miss Kulak. They prepared a chicken lunch with all the accessories. The birthday cake was cut as a climax to the happy occasion, being brought to the dining room with the burning candles. Mrs. Jackson received a number of gifts for her birthday.

Keep Eliminative System Active

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

ONE can't feel well when there is a retention of poisonous waste in the blood. This is called a toxic condition, and is apt to make one tired, dull and languid. Other symptoms are sometimes toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people have learned the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, when the kidneys seem functionally inactive. Every-

Old Trail Driver Dies At Farm Here

Died Tuesday, April 10th John H.
McLinn, at the County Farm, age 75 years.

Mr. McLinn was an old Texas trail driver and had helped to make famous the early history of Texas. He was one of those who were associated with "North of 36". He was said to have been famous as a rider when Texas ponies furnished amusement for early pioneers.

He had been in poor health for some time. He left relatives who lived out of the State.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at early twilight, and was laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery. Rev.
L. J. Power, pastor of the First Methodist church, conducted the religious services.

Additions Will Be Made to Thorndale Marvel Bath House

The new foundation has been completed and construction is now under way on additions to the Marvel Well bath house near Thorndale, according to M. K. Culver, manager. The bath houses are to be enlarged and additional equipment installed in order that more patients might be accommodated.

Culver stated Friday that he had secured many new ideas and plans for the betterment of the Marvel Well after a trip last week to Marlin with Mrs. Culver and Mr. and Mrs. John Wallis, of Minerva. All the modern methods used in mineral water baths at other resorts will be used at the Marvel Well, and the additions to the bath house will allow the accommodation of 100 patients each day, Culver said.

The additions being made on both the east and west wings of the present structure have been found necessary because of the increase in the number of patients at the bath house each day. "The number of patients increase as warm weather approaches," Culver said, "and this summer we hope to be equipped to take care of 10 patients each day in a manner equal to that at Marlin and other famous resorts."

Mrs. Bill McKinney and son, Gene, of Dallas were guests of her aunts, Mrs. Dan Gunn and Mrs. Hugo Slaughter last week.

Mrs. Lizzie Weaver of Dallas visited her sisters, Mesdames Dan Gunn and Hugo Slaughter last week.

Coolidge Slated As Republican Nominee, R. B. Creager Says

Ft. Worth, Tex., April 21.—The opinion that President Coolidge will be the standard bearer of the republican party in 1928 was expressed today by R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas, in town for a conference with Texas party leaders. "Coolidge will undoubtedly be the nominee of the republican party," he said. "He will not make any campaign for the nomination but will merely hold himself in a dignified readiness to carry the party banner should he be called on to do so."

Aged Cameron Woman Recalls Events About Lynching Story Here

Mrs. N. S. Slocomb, 82, mother of B. Slocomb, city marshal, last week on hearing the story in the Herald read to her by her son, touching on the story of the lynching here of a negro as told by John Baldridge, has supplied additional information about the event.

Mrs. Slocomb recalls the tragedy and remembers the name of the negro. He was called "Bacon" because he had stolen a quantity of bacon previous to the killing of the white man. From that theft he was given the name. The negro killed John Baker in 1876. Baker had gone to Rockdale to sell some hides and on the way back the negro asked for a ride in the wagon, later killing Mr. Baker and robbing him of the money.

The negro was hanged to a tree and the fire kindled under him. Many people saw the body the next day, charred and hanging to the tree.

This additional detail clears up all unremembered incidents of the lynching by the Bell County men.

To Cameron Herald

I am interested in the marketing of cream and would like to see a milk route operated by my residence. I think the daily sale of cream would increase and the farmers would appreciate this service.

Name _____

The Cameron Commercial Club is trying to increase the production and sale of cream from the farms in the trade territory. If the farmers will co-operate the club feels assured that it can arrange to have this milk and cream delivered daily into Cameron at the cream station where ready cash awaits the farmers.

The plan to encourage the production of cream and increase the revenues of the farm is suggested by Mr. S. M. Burns, active club director and member of the committee on home industry. If the farmers want to increase their income with ready cash the year round, they should sign and return the above coupon by not later than May 1. This signed coupon entails no obligation whatever. It is merely a canvas of the farmers who live on the roads out of Cameron to see if the production of cream may be increased so that the construction of a creamery here will be made possible.

Carolyn Moseley, Aged One Month, Buried On Sunday Afternoon

Her passing left the hearts of her parents, relatives and their many friends in sadness. The dear little form was tenderly laid to rest Sunday afternoon in Oak Hill Cemetery covered with flowers. Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor of the First Baptist church, spoke comforting words to the bereaved family. Coleman-Eplen, undertakers, directed the funeral.

Birthday Outing

Mrs. White entertained very beautifully Saturday afternoon, April 16 in honor of her little son, Thomas Jefferson White, who was nine years old that day. Little Tommie, as he is called by his playmates, was quite proud of his gift from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. White, which consisted of a five dollar gold piece and four bright shining silver dollars, a dollar for each year old. He proudly deposited the money to his already started bank account.

Mrs. White planned a delightful outing for Tommie and his little playmates and took them to Wayside Inn for outdoor games, where the youngsters enjoyed nature in all her spring glory. Later on the good eats were spread and a bountiful feast was partaken of. Later the happy group returned to town with brightly shining faces over the splendid afternoon's pleasure.

Tommie received many gifts suitable for games; and ere long baseball and marbles will be popular with these little men, who in the near future will be our citizens that will take hold and direct our government.

Mrs. Charlie Pollard assisted Mrs. White in making the afternoon one long to be remembered by the following who were present: John Evans, Joe Newton, Leslie Black, Bill Alex Triggs, Leonard Blaylock, Hardin and Rodney Pollard, Luie Turner, Ernest Kahler, Joe Bill White and the honor guest.

MEN OF CAMERON HEAR JUDGE DAVIS OF BRYAN

BAPTIST BIBLE CLASS FILL AUDITORIUM FOR SUNDAY MEETING

Fellowship and service as a creed of Christianity to bind men closer together was stressed by Judge W. C. Davis of Bryan Sunday morning at the Baptist church when he spoke to the Men's Bible Class.

Judge Davis, former district attorney here and now district judge at Bryan, has many friends here who were present for the meeting Sunday morning. His address was an inspiring appeal to the men to put into practice the theme of Christian Service. As a jurist Judge Davis is in close touch with the world of men and knows the things they most need in their lives.

The judge touched well upon the modern evolution theory as taught by some and condemned the practice, declaring that teachers who teach the theory espoused by Darwin as applied to the origin of mankind should not be paid by public money. He said he would not favor compulsory reading of the Bible in public schools because of the division of religious sentiment in the country.

Church finances was touched upon by the judge, the doctrine of the tithe being offered as the Bible plan of giving and a sound policy for the finances of the church.

The world, he said, needs Christian fellowship, a warm handclasp and sympathy in the complex problems of life. "We must see to it that our lives point the way to righteousness," he said, "bearing in mind the need of Christian examples among us so that men seeing us may be influenced to the side of the church. If the church fills its rightful place in the lives of men and the world, it is up to us to give the right interpretation to its ideals. The natural inclination of man is to do wrong, the spirit of evil contending with the impulses of right. The world will have little faith in us if we do not acquit ourselves in the proper way."

The judge was eloquent in his appeal. As a public speaker he has few equals in Texas. Friends who knew him in the days of his public service here were glad of the opportunity to hear him again at his best. He made reference to his service here and recalled by name a number of men in the audience who had in times past helped him on the way up the heights. A touch of sorrow came into his address as he told of the loss of his good wife recently. He expressed thanks for the messages that had come to him from Cameron friends during the sad days.

Class reports show that 193 men were present for the address. Of this number about 40 were from the Methodist church, the Bible Class from that church with its teacher, O. M. Smith attending in a body. The attendance aside from the Methodist men was 153 or slightly more than the goal set for the enlistment period.

The program was begun with songs by the men and a special selection by H. P. Black, musical director. Miss Helen Flinn was at the piano. Dr. James Watson led the men in prayer. Preston Graves, class president in a brief word presented Judge Davis who came to the platform and began his address.

At the close of the class F. B. Cable, teacher, responded in a brief talk on behalf of the men present, expressing the sentiment of all in approval of the address he delivered.

At the class session next Sunday J. B. White, assistant teacher will lead the discussion.

On Sunday May 8, Rev. L. J. Power of the Methodist church, will deliver the Mother's Day address for the class. The auditorium of the church will be used again and a larger crowd than the attendance last Sunday is expected as the pastor will draw many from his own church as well as from other churches.

Cullen F. Thomas has been asked to deliver the address for the class on May 12 at which time a banquet will be held.

Mr. Cable has plans for the class that will take the work well up to vacation period and through the summer.

Eastern Star

Mrs. Clara Lee Smith of Smithville, District Deputy Grand Matron of the Eastern Star paid Cameron Chapter of Eastern Star an official visit Thursday afternoon. Rev. L. J. Power of the Cameron Methodist church and Rev. E. C. Oakley of Eastern Texas Presbytery were introduced to the Presbytery and invited to sit as visiting brethren. The various committees were appointed by the Moderator and the several reports showing more men than ever heretofore are interested in the various works of the church, and the Presbytery urged all churches to make definite and speedy efforts to perfect some sort of organization to enlist the co-operative services of the men of the church.

Emphasis was placed upon the Foreign Mission work and the imperative need of work in that line now. The lack of funds has handicapped the workers and regrets were expressed that such conditions had arisen. Special prayers were offered for this work and the workers who are out in the hard places in our foreign fields.

Local missions received special attention and this work is being vigorously pushed by Rev. John P. Kidd, Presbyterian evangelist, and many of the pastors of full time churches are doing work outside their churches. The membership has been substantially increased during the past year.

The fall meeting of the Presbytery will meet at Southern Presbyterian church at Austin. L. H. Wharton of Austin and E. H. Hudson of Mexia were elected from the ministry to the General Assembly and Rev. John P. Kidd, Austin and J. W. Campbell, Mart, alternates. Ruling Elders, W. G. Gillis, Cameron, P. W. McFadden, Austin, principals and D. C. Burks, Belton and M. C. Mitchell, Corsicana alternates.

Peace and harmony prevailed and business was dispatched without delay. The Presbytery adjourned late Wednesday afternoon and most of the representatives left immediately for their homes. Resolutions were passed by the Presbytery thanking the people of Cameron for the hospitality extended them.

Commends Veterinary

May I speak a word of commendation for your Doctor Sutton. He did a splendid piece of work for me recently. Delivered my fine cow of a calf with two heads. That man lay there on his stomach with that cow the better part of a day and administered to that cow as tenderly and considerately as if she had been human. At times it seemed as if they both succumb. But they didn't. The doctor is doing nicely and so is the cow. He has had the head mounted and has it on display at the Hatchery. He needs to have his picture "tucked" but the photographer refuses.
